

Heartwalker
peace project

A New Kind of Peace Walk

Do you still believe that every voice counts?

Do you want real change in the way the world deals with conflict?

Are you tired of the same old peace marches that don't leave you feeling any better?

Then “get your heart on” and come out on the streets on September 21, 2008

The United Nations International Day of Peace!

Join others – adults and children, peace and social justice organizations, guest speakers, musicians and artists – for this celebration and peace walk that is not anti-anything.

The event begins at 11am at Justin Herman Plaza - RAIN OR SHINE - with music, performance and a 3.5 mile walk following a route shaped like a heart.

The HEARTWALKER PEACE PROJECT, an ongoing series of walks through cities around the world, is a volunteer organization creating and fostering a global community with peace and cooperation as its foundation.

Find out more : www.heartwalker.org, 510.495.4988

The Heartwalker Peace Project: San Francisco 2008

Sunday, 9.21.08, 11 am, Justin Herman Plaza, Embarcadero Center, San Francisco